FROM GEOFFREY'S DESK . . .

This past weekend was a busy one at Trenton Crossing. It was good having James and Sarah Walter with us. Their visit was in conjunction with James' interest in serving as our next pulpit minister. I know that a number of you got to meet them, and you will see a QR code in this Messenger where you can leave input about their visit. Let's continue to pray about this process.

This coming week, I will be traveling to North Carolina for yet another week of involvement in Carolina Bible Camp. As a matter of fact, this coming week will be directed by Kevin Lehde. I am always thankful for the opportunity, and I am looking forward to the time there. In my absence, the lesson during our worship assembly will be brought by our own homegrown Colin Cameron. Colin is the son of Andy and Denise Cameron, and he is interested in ministry. I know that he will be encouraged by your presence, and you will be blessed by what he has to say. Lord willing, I will be back with you (hopefully, still in full voice) on the 28th.

Magi Boxes

It's time for us to focus on our service to others through the MAGI Project. These boxes go to children who may not receive any other new clothes or gifts. They will be distributed through local churches around the globe. There are lists of items to be included in the boxes on the table in the back of the gym and in each box. This makes a great family teaching opportunity. Have your child help fill the box by choosing items they would like to receive. If you would like to donate items only, they can be placed in the tubs near the welcome center. You can also contribute money to fill a box. Checks can be made out to Trenton Crossing or Healing

Hands International and given to the church office.
Consider doing some of your shopping early since some of the items are on sale and available now, and they may be more difficult to find later in the fall.

For further information, contact Chris Middleton,
Diana McArthur or HHI.org.
